A MESSAGE FROM OUR CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Summit Healthcare Association has developed and adopted this Code of Conduct and Ethics to provide guidance on the standards of ethical business and care practices which direct our organization. We are committed to provide the highest quality of care to our patients. Summit strives to achieve this objective through compliance with all applicable laws, Government regulations, third-party payer requirements, and policies and procedures. To ensure that we fulfill this commitment while operating in a complex and highly regulated health care delivery environment, we have implemented a system-wide Compliance Program.

A key element of Summit's Compliance Program is the Code of Conduct and Ethics, which serves as the foundation of our Compliance Program. The Code of Conduct and Ethics is derived from our mission and vision, and affirms the values and professional standards that already exist among our employees and colleagues. We are committed to following the Code of Conduct and Ethics.

Our success requires the active participation of every individual associated with our organization. If you know or suspect that a law, regulation, policy, or our Code of Conduct and Ethics is not being followed, it is your responsibility to report this information.

To assist you in carrying out your compliance responsibilities, we have designated a Corporate Compliance Officer and a Compliance Manager. You can reach out to the Compliance Staff, your supervisor or director, or an administrator if you have any questions or concerns. Alternatively, if you prefer, you may call our dedicated Compliance Hotline to report a concern or make a complaint on a confidential basis. The phone number of the Hotline is 1-888-826-8433. Calls to the Hotline may be made anonymously.

Regardless of your reporting method, I can assure you that Summit Healthcare Association will not tolerate retaliation for good faith reporting of issues or concerns to anyone in management, the Summit Compliance Staff, or the Hotline.

Summit Healthcare Association is committed to implementing an effective Compliance Program. Our compliance efforts are critical to providing high quality services to our patients and upholding our mission, vision and values.

Sincerely,

Ron McArthur
Chief Executive Officer

No disciplinary action or retaliation will be taken when you report a perceived issue, problem, concern, or violation to Management, Administration, the Compliance Officer, or the Compliance Hotline “in good faith.” The “in good faith” requirement means an employee actually believes or perceives the information reported to be true. We value each individual. Everyone has the right to be treated fairly and with respect.

All employees, medical staff and third party entities who act on behalf of the organization have the responsibility to report legal and regulatory concerns. Failure to report compliance concerns may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination from employment or contract.

How to Report Concerns and Ask Questions

Summit encourages employees to report concerns and ask questions. All staff have the responsibility to report legal and regulatory concerns and may do so as follows:

Step 1: Discuss the question or concern with your direct supervisor. Your direct supervisor is most familiar with the laws, regulations, and policies that relate to your work.

Step 2: If you are not comfortable with talking to your supervisor or feel you did not receive an adequate response, contact your Manager or Director. You may also contact another Manager or Director, or an Administrator.

RESPONSIBILITY OF EMPLOYEES

All employees are expected to follow all applicable laws, regulations, and policies. Anyone who knows about a violation must report this information. If an employee does not report a violation, he/she may be subject to disciplinary action even if not directly involved. Reporting does not protect an employee from disciplinary action regarding his/her own performance or conduct, but their honesty in reporting will be considered. If a violation is suspected, employees are expected to discuss the situation with their direct supervisor who is most familiar with the related laws, regulations and policies.

RESPONSIBILITY OF MANAGEMENT

Management is expected to demonstrate a commitment to ethical and legal behavior that is consistent with Summit's mission and Compliance Program.
